What could make Milwaukee famous in case prohibition were returned?

In the "dry" days there were only about two choices—Go to a "speakeasy", or make yourself.

Politics as usual seem to be rampant in Washington.

Don't they know we're having a helluva war?

We would say there were a dozen war fronts already.

Why the clamor for a second one?

We have faith in our military strategists to know when to strike.

To send our armies to a second front at any other time might mean the death of thousands of our American boys.

Let's leave it to our officers and let's keep production going here at home at top speed.

You'll enjoy the farce baseball picture at the Rialto tonight.

These cool mornings make us feel that fall is upon us.

Wish those three guys would stop telling us about their big catches—lunker perch and bluegills.

First thing they know we'll want to try their lake fishin'.

Jack VanCoeversing, Free Press outdoor writer, was a caller here Friday. He says this has been a good fishing year all over Michigan.

Editor Al Weber of the Cheboygan Observer tries to kid us about feeling badly over having missed a "naval" display.

Who said anything about a naval display. What we missed was a "naval" display.

There's an 'ell of a lot of difference.

Ask that clerk to give you your change in war savings stamps.

It's a swell investment, and besides, it's helping in the war.

The promised salvage campaign is on.

Don't hold anything back—the army needs it, and you can get along without it.

Clamping down on lipstick, rouge and face powder!

Do they think in Washington that women started this war?

Myron says that now people can tell which way he is lookin'.

No soldiers this week, but we understand that Friday there will be a bigger aggregation than ever before.

What a Major?

Horace E. Dodge since the day his father died has done nothing but live by spend money and change wives. This wastrel playboy has no more training or experience in the commanding of men than has a fourteen-year-old Fiji islander.

Yet he has been commissioned a major in the United States army.

Perhaps someone in authority can tell us why.—Detroit Free Press.

Ladies Golf Club

Thirty-five ladies attended the luncheon with contract and golf games following.

Mrs. Holger Schmidt held the high score for contract and Mrs. A. J. Joseph received the gallop prize.

A series of four games of contract will be given in August.

Next Tuesday the ladies will be guests of the Gaylord Golf Club.

Entertains With Dinner

A dinner was given by Mrs. H. A. Bauman at her Lake Margrethe summer home for the members of the Hanson families and a few other guests Saturday evening.

Following the dinner the twenty guests spent the evening visiting.

First Aid Classes Receive Diplomas

GRADUATES PLEASED OVER SUCCESSES.

After weeks of work and study by students and much time spent by instructors, there is a pleased group of men and women of Grayling on being issued certificates for successful completion of "First Aid" study.

It is an honor to have acquired this course and good results are certain to accrue to the good of the general public who have to acknowledge there is hardly a day passes but that there is imminent aid needed in cases of accidents or sudden illness.

If only the fundamentals of first aid treatment are understood by these graduates then their presence at scenes of accidents may be the means of preventing increased injuries and perhaps death itself. Even tho their knowledge may not be needed in cases of accidents in war-time battles, still there is much opportunity for service by these large groups of first aiders. The fact that each and every one of the following graduates have mastered much more than the fundamentals of first aid, means much to the people at large. All over the country similar classes have been graduated, and we are happy to feel that Grayling people have responded so loyally and energetically to this most worthy cause.

Besides 89 graduates in the standard classes, there is another group of 31 who have graduated from advance classes.

Dr. Claude R. Keyport, Dr. Clarence G. Clippert and Jesse Warner have been the instructors in these classes, and they have been ably assisted by Lewis Dorman, conservation officer.

Following are those who have received graduation certificates:

Gave Reception For St. Mary's Pastor

To meet Rev. Fr. Branigan, newly appointed pastor of St. Mary's church, and his mother Mrs. Branigan, who have come to Grayling to make their home, the ladies of St. Mary's church gave a lovely reception Wednesday evening. There were some 100 members and friends present.

The church committeemen and their wives received the guests and introduced the guests of honor. There was a short musical program given under direction of Mrs. Leo Koerper, of Lake Margrethe and Detroit, with Mrs. Koerper, Mrs. Richard Lovely and W. J. Heric taking part; also Miss Regina Noa of Gaylord sang two numbers. Father Branigan spoke a few words of greeting saying he was very happy to be in Grayling.

The parish hall was lovely with baskets of flowers, and the oblong table from which a buffet lunch was served was pretty with a crystal bowl of vari-colored summer blooms, with tall green lighted tapers at either end.

It was a very nice gesture on the part of the ladies of the church.

Notice to the Public

Grasshopper poison will be available at Infirmary garage on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Fred Niederor, Supervisor.

Kiwanis Club Notes

The meeting was held at Michelson Memorial Church banquet room Wednesday. There was a fair attendance present, and many visitors. Among the latter were Kiwanians House of the Port Huron club; Gross and Biggs of the Cadillac club and Huff of the Midland club.

Birthdays of Rev. Kuhlman and Edward Janis were observed and honors were conferred upon several club members for perfect attendance records over a period of years.

Mr. Rouse told of some of the early days when he was a resident of Grayling, referring to some of the former landmarks. His talk was supplemented by one by Dr. Keyport who also brought up recollections of past reminiscences.

Secretary Norman Butler was heartily felicitated over his fatherhood, a daughter having been born to him and Mrs. Butler August 1st. And Norm did the handsome thing when he passed a box of cigars for those who wished them and candy bars for the others. A printed slip on each article read "Compliments of Suzanne Ruth." The Butlers have congratulations from their many friends, and the little lady is most welcome to Grayling.

No speaker was scheduled for the meeting. Next week Wednesday the meeting will be held at Shoppensons Inn, the usual meeting place.

Looking Ahead

By Dr. George S. Benson
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Everybody wishes war would come to an abrupt end, but there is every reason to expect it to be long and hard, seriously depleting the resources of the entire world. When a nation goes bankrupt in war-time, its military efforts are paralyzed; its enemies win by default. America, of all the nations at war, has the most wealth but spends most. Will the wealth last to victory?

Figures show that conservation is highly important; that economy is needed to avoid bankruptcy. Military strategists are preparing for a six-year war, but if it lasts only three years and our present rate of government spending keeps up, America's national debt will exceed 250 billion dollars when the war is over.

How much is 250 billion dollars?

It is an amount twice as large as the assessed valuation of all the nation's real estate, city, town and country. Only a part of this debt is necessary, but the positively essential portion is itself enormous.

If a government such as ours should go bankrupt, what would it mean to you and me; to the butcher, the baker and the street-car conductor?

It would be a calamity to every citizen. Of course, some governments can go broke and not hurt anything much, because they have no credit. Nobody has trusted them, nobody bought their bonds, nobody loaned them money. But America is different. Uncle Sam has been a substantial citizen of the world for 166 years, with a reputation for paying his honest debts.

Banks and insurance companies, large and small, have trusted Uncle Sam implicitly and have freely converted their cash reserves into U.S. government bonds. They have put these documents in their vaults and called them capital investments, good as gold. They were as good as gold too, even better. But national bankruptcy would change that.

National bankruptcy would injure the best and most loyal citizens. How hard it would hit any one person would depend on how useful he had been to his family and community. People with land or mortgages, bank accounts or insurance, stocks or bonds, these would lose their savings and the fruits of their labors.

Why would such people be responsible for the payment of debts they did not contract; notes they did not sign?

The average citizen does not actually sign the papers, but he contracts government debts in a lawfully binding way. His representatives in congress have the right to appropriate public money; authorize its expenditure. Congress can make public debts for cash and levy taxes to pay the public debts. And if congress should spend more money than the nation is worth (about 340 billion dollars, that would be national bankruptcy. At the present rate, it can happen in seven years, and the rate is being speeded up.

How can we escape national bankruptcy and save American business from financial collapse? Only by stopping before we go that far. The nation now is speeding toward bankruptcy, spending about three times as much as it collects in taxes. Of course we can not stop spending what it takes to win the war, but all other kinds of government spending can be cut; ought to be cut. If congress will stop needless non-war spending, like supporting the WPA, the NYA and the farm program, it will help a great deal.

Economy exhibited by the government will save money needed now to gain victory, but that's the least of the benefits. It will help citizens believe there is a need for economy; lead them to save more for personal security, making greater investments in bonds. It will also tend to weaken the pull of political blocs trying to siphon off public funds for their private use and benefit.

The more wealth America has at war's end, the less likely will be such calamities as repudiation of public debts, seizure of private property, revolt, terrorism and dictatorship. There are two ways to escape these evils: Win the war quickly, and stay solvent.

Church Notices for Next Sunday

This week the ladies groups meet. Also the Seniors served luncheon for the Kiwanis club.

Our official board has set the second Tuesday each month for its regular time for meeting. Miss Yvonne Bradley is secretary.

Visitors come to our services in larger numbers than in former years. They give many expressions of appreciation, both of the services and also the splendid welcome.

The series of sermons on "The Lord's Prayer" is creating comment. Next Sunday, the theme is "Thy Will Be Done."

Tremendous Campaign For All Kinds Of Junk Material Starts This Month

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT URGES EVERY FIRM, EVERY INDIVIDUAL TO GET BEHIND THIS GREAT EFFORT. HAROLD MACNEVEN IS CHAIRMAN OF THE EFFORT.

The greatest drive of the war starts this month in Grayling and vicinity for junk material of all kinds including rubber, old iron, steel, aluminum, rags, copper, brass, zinc. Everything in the metal line, particularly, as well as rubber.

Every business firm, every individual, is expected to do his or her part to get these materials centralized and ready to move to the processing plants at an early date so that it may become part of the war effort and for civilian needs THAT MUST BE MET. Harold MacNeven is chairman of the local drive.

The Home Front

In June, almost a million American men joined the already huge army of production in factories, shipyards, offices and on farms. In June, our output of ships and tanks and planes and guns, of ammunition and war equipment was nearly three times that of last November.

Men Working Together

We have need for such good news—particularly at this time when Nazi tanks lumber through the ripe wheat fields of the Ukraine, in a drive which threatens the great city of Stalingrad.

In Egypt, the Nazi and their Italian accomplices are only 60 miles from the British naval base at Alexandria. In the Far East, Japanese patrols near the United Nations air base on New Guinea, an outpost in the defense of Australia.

In the Atlantic, Axis submarines continue to sink our merchant ships at an alarming rate.

None of us would be foolish enough at such a time to underestimate the strength of our enemies. Yet, though our foes may gain victory after victory, we are building the instruments of their destruction. In the end, we shall overwhelm them by sheer weight of weapons and of manpower.

Unity, Sacrifice, Action

In announcing June production achievements, Donald Nelson, WPB chairman, warned that "boasting" about our progress would be "premature" and that there are no excuses for "undue optimism."

It is true that the biggest part of the job still lies ahead of us but it is heartening to know that we made more war planes in the first six months of 1942 than were made in all of 1941 and 3 1/2 times as many anti-aircraft guns. We built more tanks in six months than in the whole previous year; 98 per cent more machine tools; and 135 per cent more ships.

Work, Sacrifice, Victory

The flow of scrap metals back to the steel furnaces has not increased as it should, despite the intensive nationwide salvage drive which still is going on. Rumors that there would be a hike in the maximum price for iron and steel scrap—which caused dealers to wait for the rumored increase—were emphatically denied both by the WPA and OPA.

Get In the Scrap

None of the United Nations which have been overrun by the Axis hordes really has been conquered. New testimony of our unconquerable spirit of our allies came last week in the form of a communique from the Yugoslav Army, under the command of Gen. Draja Mihailovich. Confirmed by Axis admissions, the Yugoslavs said they had retaken considerable territory in "occupied" Jugostavia and had captured 1,200 prisoners.

Badgered and harassed by the continued resistance of the people of occupied Europe, the Nazis now are afraid of a food shortage and Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Gestapo, has been instructed to silence the complaints of the hungry—in the usual Gestapo manner.

We're All at War

On our own food front, those foods not under OPA control have risen sharply in price during the last few months. Lamb, for instance, the price of which is not controlled, went up more than 10 per cent between mid-May and mid-June. Roasting chickens went up nearly 9 per cent in the same period. Apples, which also aren't controlled, went up 25 per cent in the one-month period and now are selling at prices 50 per cent higher than March.

On the other hand, prices of controlled beef, veal and pork fell off and prices of other foods which are under price ceilings either remained steady or declined.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson said last week that government control of prices and rents, where they are in effect, are doing a good job of holding down the cost of living but that uncontrolled prices show a definite tendency toward dangerously high levels.

Nevertheless, Henderson stated, "The President's program will prevail and the battle against inflation will be won."

West Branch Editor Resigns

With the resignation of Stuart Wilsey as editor and publisher of the West Branch Herald, he is succeeded by "Jack" Davis as editor and Willard A. Crandall will return as publisher.

Wilsey will return to his former position as chemical engineer with the Upjohn Co., manufacturing pharmacists at Kalamazoo. Wilsey was well liked by his fellow editors and it is with regret that we learn of his leaving West Branch.

Davis is a smart and energetic writer and we are sure will fit into the picture with the Herald very well. And Mr. Crandall will be most welcome back in the field of Michigan publishers.

Esbern Hansons Hosts

The Esbern Hansons opened their home to twenty relatives and friends at a family dinner Thursday evening.

Everyone enjoyed an evening spent informally.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1942

IS the job too big for our peace officers to maintain law enforcement in our city or are the perpetrators too clever and can evade our officers or is there indifference on the part of these officers? Certainly things are coming to a pretty mess when people are allowed to chase about town looking auto horns, yelling and cursing and using profanity at all hours of the night and nothing seems to be done about it. We have our city marshal who is on duty nights principally and a county sheriff and his deputies whose responsibility is just as great within the city limits as they are outside the city and still it seems that cursing and disturbing of the peace goes on almost nightly.
Only recently chicken thieves have been raided, flower gardens have been raided, garden vegetables have been stolen, and on Sunday night someone drove an auto all over the school yard lawn cutting it up and badly damaging it. We realize that law enforcement officers can't be all over at once and that mis-deemeanors and crimes are committed at times when the perpetrators know the officers are not around. Thieves are pretty clever and know how to evade officers, but it does seem that with a little cooperation between all the officers that the public streets could be kept free from unnecessary noises that disturb the peace, especially during hours that most people are trying to sleep. And there is no excuse for profane and filthy language to be condoned in public streets and places. There is a law that protects the people from such misdemeanors, and the people have a right to expect their officers to give them this protection. This article is not directed toward any one in particular, and should not be taken in that way.
The conditions of which we speak are general and vandalism has been going on here for many years, but so many complaints are being made lately that this nuisance seems to be growing worse instead of better and a determined effort to stamp it out now would be better than to allow it to go on unchecked until it gets beyond any degree of control. We should dislike to learn of some just-but-rate citizen taking the law into his own hands and committing some act that might incriminate him, regardless of whether his act was warranted or not. There certainly is a limit which the public will endure. Once aroused it might lead to violence, and an effort to enforce decency in public places and better protection for property owners is something to which the public is entitled.

Time of July 20, 1942, says:

The tightest, grimmest war shortage facing the U. S. is rubber. It need not have been. For five months after Pearl Harbor the U. S. government did practically nothing effective to get a synthetic rubber industry created to fill the gap caused by Japan's conquests. That failure is the worst scandal of the U. S. war effort; the sort of scandal which, in another country, would have cost a couple of Ministers their jobs or perhaps have toppled a whole government. Only in the past eight weeks has a new team, with a passion for anonymity, arisen, in Washington to take hold of the synthetic-rubber program and push it through, come hell or high water.
Only now are there some grounds for honest optimism.

CONSIDER THE FACTS

When you see that healthy looking, husky appearing young man going down the street, and he is not wearing a uniform, don't accuse the draft board of holding out on you, or of showing favors, or of having been made tame and tractable by nice and promising words. You don't know what prevents that boy from going to war. Maybe he would give everything he possessed to be as well and as fit as you are. You don't know why he has been deferred or put in a class below 1-A. The draft board has most of the facts in most every case. They may be misled for a while, but it's just for a while. They are doing just what you would do if you were in their shoes and had all the evidence before you. If you see a mentally incompetent, a physically unfit and weakling sent away by the draft board to be given the final test for fitness, don't say "the draft board must be damn fools to send that fellow away to become a soldier." Just remember the draft board is not allowed to pass on any physical fitness, mentality or such of those things that keeps men out of war. The local doctors to whom these men are first sent for examination do not have the latitude you would expect them to have, and you too accuse them of passing men unfit and unqualified. They can only go so far and that is not far enough, therefore that is why a ratio of about one-third of the men sent for final examination are sent back home. That is why you accuse the draft board and the local examining physician of playing favorites, or not recognizing what it takes to make a soldier, a sailor or a man fit for any kind of military and armed service. Spare your criticism until it comes right into your homes and your lives, then look at it from an unprejudiced viewpoint if you can do so, and what a changed picture will appear before you.—Manning News.

War Bonds Comm. Held Meeting

The first meeting of the newly organized War Bonds committee was held Wednesday night in the offices of Grayling State Savings Bank. The officers of the club are as follows:

Chairman—John Bruun.
Finance chairman—Esbern Hanson.

Retail Sales chairman—Wilhelm Raue, with other members Farnham Matson and Harley Russell.

Public Relations chairman—
Charles E. Moore.

Publicity chairman—O. P.
Schumann.

Last month the sale of bonds exceeded the July quota. So far this month the sales are coming in quite satisfactorily. It was the opinion of the committee that the purchase of savings stamps by the general public has been a very patriotic gesture.
Many are systematically buying one or more savings stamps daily. This amount is so small that the purchaser hardly notices it, but in the aggregate they amount to considerable.

Judging from past experiences it is going to be the purchase of these small savings stamps that is going to put Crawford county up to filling our quota—$9,601.00 each month for the duration of the war.

People are urged to buy one or more stamps every day. Stores displaying the large red and blue letter V have stamps for sale.
Ask for stamps whenever you have change coming.

There is a big task ahead of us to raise the necessary amount monthly but we are sure the people of Crawford county will succeed.

Training Dogs On Game Now Legal

Training of dogs on game may shortly become a familiar sight in Michigan rural areas, when the weather is cool enough to permit it, as training dogs on grouse and rabbits now is legal in the upper peninsula and training them on pheasants and rabbits in the lower peninsula becomes legal August 15.

Conservation department officials are reminding racoon hunters, however, that they must wait until September 1, as training is allowed only in the 60 days preceding the open season, and the season for hunting coons does not begin until November 1.

No "pet permits" are being issued by the conservation department these days to persons "finding" young racoons, as these permits have been abused by coon dog trainers in the past.

Training dogs to hunt small game must be done during daylight hours. Handlers may carry no firearms other than a pistol containing blank cartridges, and for this a state police permit is necessary.

No Dodging In Eaton's Platform

SENATE CANDIDATE DEMANDS ACTION

Action in Washington, quick action, is the demand of Elton R.
Eaton, Plymouth newspaper publisher, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States senate.

Eaton's platform, just given to the public, is a challenge to the administration in Washington to get busy, and win the war as quickly as possible and stop squandering tax dollars.
When the war has been won,
Eaton demands that America

Elton R. Eaton

write a treaty that will make it impossible to ever again throw the world into another war.

His platform, filled with good Americanism and action, follows:

Immediate action on the "Washington front" is the nation's greatest need. I am for quick action, constant action, until America has won a TOTAL victory over the brutal, stealing, ruling pagan war makers of Japan and Germany.

The proposed asinine squan-dering of millions of dollars and the wasting of millions of pounds of iron pipe to build a so-called "model city" somewhere near the new Ford bomber plant is a war-time folly that should be killed before another session of congress. If it is not, I will fight this expenditure to a finish, as well as oppose all other forms of government waste.

Equal sacrifice and equal responsibility should be shared by every citizen in our war effort. There should be no special favors or hand-outs to any pressure group.

The recent senate confirmation of two political machine puppets was an affront to patriotic America. There is no place in Washington or anywhere else for political parasites and exploiters.
If nominated and elected, I will be present at every session of the senate to oppose such politically dictated appointments.

Every "war broker" in Washington or anywhere else in America should be eliminated.
The administration has said there will be no millionaires made out of this war. In spite of this statement thousands of "war millionaires" are in the making.
All types of war profiteering should be stopped.

Free enterprise has made this the most envied nation in the world. I am for free enterprise and the free American way of doing things.

I will favor the enactment of a law which will prevent any labor or other organization interested in legislation from giving money to political candidates, parties or committees without the written consent of every member of that organization. I favor legislation which will force a public accounting once each year of all expenditures of union funds if spent for other than benefit purposes of its members. I recognize the fact that exploitation of labor in the past by certain employer groups has caused the pendulum to swing too far in one direction.
But two wrongs never make a right. I am in favor, therefore, of doing things which will make matters right and result in the adoption of the spirit of good will, co-operation and team work in the administration of all labor laws.

Open doors and open records are a sure cure for public wrongs. I advocate the elimination of secrecy from all public business not directly associated with military and naval operations.

Every citizen of the United States should have a right to vote without being forced to pay a state poll tax in order to do so. I will put forth every effort to attempt to remedy this unjust practice.

Old age pensions will, when the war ends, be one of the nation's major problems. Present conditions will necessitate help for millions not protected by the present social security act. The next congress should work out a plan which will take the wel-

Washington Notes And Comments

By
Congressman Roy O. Woodruff
Tenth Michigan District

The Congressional unofficial recess to permit the members of the House and the Senate to get back home to talk face to face with their constituents is both timely and necessary. In the Capitol, there is a false atmosphere of assuredness on the part of a huge bureaucracy which claims to speak for the people, and unhesitatingly does so without regard to what the people want said. Lacking any authority and less authenticity in speaking for the people, this bureaucracy tends to beloud all of the issues by specious arguments and figures which are not always trustworthy.

It is a good thing for the Members of Congress to get back among the people at this time not only in order to tell their constituents face to face what the real conditions are, what progress is being made in the war effort, and what plans are being laid to continue the dictatorial controls after peace has come in the United States, but also to learn first hand what the people themselves want.

In spite of all the fog and dust raised by bureaucratic arguments and activities, it still remains a fact that ours is a government of, by and for the people.
Being a government by consent of the governed, it is well for the members of Congress to get back and find out what the governed have to say about how their government is being conducted.

There is evolving a very definite pattern of politics now which is being pursued by the Administration from the President down, and which would make it appear that the war effort had been for the time being sidetracked for the great American game of partisan politics. The Democratic gubernatorial contest in New York is a glaring case in point. The newspapers report politicians dropping in and out of the White House in an almost continuous procession—this while New Deal Administration spokesmen are berating Republicans and Jeffersonian Democrats for even daring to seek office at a time like this.

Another very definite pattern is evolving, which indicates with a clarity that is very disquieting, that there are those who are planning for a continuation of the war controls long after the war is ended. It is now a matter of more than suspicion that under cover of the Lease-Lend authority, economic agreements, including trade and currency commitments, are being set up which will surrender our domestic market and completely entangle us in the economic difficulties of Europe after the war, unless we exercise very great care to avoid such a situation.

Under these circumstances, it is a very wholesome thing for Members of Congress to get home and talk with their constituents and find out how the American people are feeling about these matters which so vitally affect their lives, their future and their fortunes.

I hope to be able to spend several weeks in my district and during that time I shall personally meet as many of my constituents as possible.

I am opposed to all national socialistic reforms and schemes.
Complete denial to Japan for all time of any form of navigation on the sea or in the air will be written into the world peace treaty if my way prevails. Japan has proved during the centuries that she is a vicious killer at heart, a gluttonous thief and no respector of the rights of other people. Therefore, she should be denied a right to associate with other nations. All Japanese should be returned to their mainland and deprived of every method whereby they can again slaughter citizens of other lands and steal their property.

For Germany, I favor a mandated control that will continue over that country until such time as the world can be sure that no crazed, military wizard can again arouse his people to a war against peaceful, weak, unsuspecting and friendly neighbors. At no time, however, should Germany again be permitted to become a military power.

Peace terms to be written following our victory in the war, will be an American dictated peace treaty, if my will and way prevails. An American peace treaty—representing, too, the viewpoints of our womanhood, will mean a peace that will truly be everlasting. American justice will be supreme in the world.

Even though SUMMER HEAT increases tire wear...

...here's what to do about it. The thermometer on the right tells a story that is vital to every motorist who wants to conserve his tires. It shows how much faster tires wear out in summer than during the rest of the year. Note that the mileage at 40 degrees is 5 times greater than at 100 degrees. At 90 degrees, the wear is over 4 times greater, and even at 60 degrees, it's nearly twice as great.

Rubber weakens under heat—wears away faster when it's hot. Your tires work up their own heat... the faster you drive, the higher the heat. Following are some ways to help your tires bear heat and survive summer temperatures...

5. Easy ways to cool off your tires... In summer your tires have a hard time throwing off the heat they develop in driving. Help them by reducing speeds—not just to 40 but to 30 miles per hour. This will cut tire heat many degrees. Reduce speed even more on curves. And, of course, avoid "jack-rabbit" starts and "on-a-dime" stops! Cool tires call for cool driving.

Two new motion pictures.

"Commercial Fishing" and "Meet the Waterfowl", both in color, have been made available for use in schools, clubs and sportsmen's groups through the conservation department's 16-millimeter film loan library, the department's education division announced today.

Both sound and silent editions of the story of Michigan's commercial fishing are available, but the waterfowl picture, which will be an aid to sportsmen in identifying the different ducks, is now stocked only in the silent edition. A third new color motion picture, "Michigan Canoe Trails," is scheduled for release early in the fall.

Michigan Press Association

Continuing the column's tabloid review of Michigan history, we present twenty questions this week for the most part on contemporary life.

You'll be doing well to get a grade of 50 this time, so check off five points for every question that you miss, and don't miss more than ten of them—Editor's Note.

DID YOU KNOW—

1. That Michigan's native sons and daughters in literature include Stewart Edward White, Harold Titus, Rex Beach, James Oliver Curwood, Clarence Budington Kelland, Ray Standard Baker (writing as David Grayson), Edgar A. Guest, Anne Campbell, Douglas Malloch, Paul de Kruif, Arthur Pound, Edna Ferber, Ring Lardner, Helen Topping Miller, Margaret Rawlings and Webb Miller. (There are many others!)

2. That in 1930 there were 173,777 Canadian-born citizens in Michigan? In addition to this group, 28,539 French-Canadian had moved to the state. The second group in numerical strength were the Polish with 119,228; third, Germans with 81,714; and fourth, English numbering 62,721.

3. That Michigan's greatest industrial expansion was between 1920 and 1930 when the state's population increased 32 per cent? Only two states, Florida and California, exceeded Michigan during this decade.

4. That Michigan State College, founded in 1837, was the first agricultural college in the United States? As a result of its success, the United States Land grant college act was made a law in 1862.

5. That Michigan State Normal college, founded in 1852, was the first normal school west of Albany, New York? Other colleges now include Central at Mount Pleasant, Western at Kalamazoo and Northern at Marquette.

6. That the second oldest continuously maintained parish of the Roman Catholic church in the United States is St. Anne's, Detroit? This church was established two days after Cadillac's landing on July 21, 1701. Father Gabriel Richards, pastor from 1802 to 1832, was the only priest ever to serve in Congress.

7. That Michigan's nationally famous state department of conservation administers 55 state parks and 12 state forests and maintains a forest fire division to protect 20,000,000 acres of fire hazard area? The world's first forest fire experiment station is located near Roscommon; short wave radio is utilized.

8. That Michigan sells more hunting and fishing licenses in proportion to its population than any other state?

9. That the Knights of Labor, formed in 1869 on principles of craft organization (the same as the C.I.O.) elected 38 members to the state legislature and 1888 were instrumental in helping to enact considerable progressive legislation such as a compulsory school attendance law, ten-hour day, a moderate child labor law, industrial safety device act and laws requiring mine inspection and abolition of child labor in mines?

10. That Michigan natural resources include copper, iron, gold, salt, limestone, coal, gypsum, oil and gas?

11. That rock salt is mined under Detroit (with huge deposits beneath the Detroit river) at a depth of 1,150 feet?

12. That Michigan has almost twice as much standing timber as Wisconsin? In 1849 there were 558 sawmills in Michigan, employing 2,730 persons. Residents then believed that the supply was inexhaustible!

13. That Michigan laid the first cement highway, built one of the first super-highways, was the first to adopt a policy of "clear vision ahead" in highway design and is leading other states in some roads?

14. That the first telephone system in Michigan was built by a mine operator at Ontonagon after he had seen Bell's invention at the Philadelphia exposition?

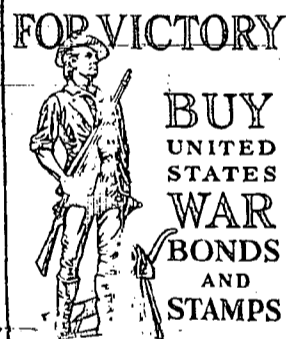

15. That the Olds Motor Works erected in Detroit first factory built in America for manufacture of automobiles? Ransom E. Olds' first auto steamer appeared in 1887 at Lansing. Steam was generated by burning gasoline.

16. That 135,485 Michigan men served in the first World War? Edwin Denby who enlisted in Michigan as a private in 1917 became secretary of the navy in 1921.

17. That the last Indian stronghold in Michigan was the Keweenaw Peninsula and Isle Royale which were ceded officially to the government 100 years ago on October 4?

18. That Abraham Lincoln gave an anti-slavery address in Kalamazoo in 1856? The Republican party had been formed at Jackson in 1854; Michigan was inflamed for abolition of slavery.

19. That St. James, a town on Beaver Island off Charlevoix, was once the capital of a Mormon kingdom and the seat of Emmet and Manitou counties in 1849? James Jesse Strang, leader, ruled the island as a king and later was elected to the House of Representatives at Lansing. His slaves escaped on a United States revenue cutter and were released by the sheriff at Mackinaw City.

Health & Hygiene

(H. H. Riecker, M.D. For: The Michigan Joint Committee on Health Education).

SLEEPING HABITS

Many a sound health precept is concealed in an ancient adage. "Early to bed and early to rise," is conducive to health; without that blessing no man may be considered truly wealthy; and wisdom is certainly an attribute of those who follow a piece of advice so heartily endorsed by the medical profession. "Sleep late," says an eminent psychologist, who seems to refute the soundness of the old saw. And, indeed, for those who keep late hours, extended sleep is far better than inadequate rest. Those who are employed at work in which they feel no pleasure, no sense of achievement, are generally those who seek nocturnal activities and entertainment. For this group of our population late sleep may be essential.

In these times the health of the nation and hence its safety depend upon good nutrition, avoidance of infection and fatigue. These are interdependent and of equal importance. Sleep for adequate recovery of energy and resistance is the basis of health for many people.

A sturdy pioneer society would derive slight pleasure from the routine followed by the café loungers and the "dawn patrol." Physically exhausting tasks entailed by its environment sent an older generation to rest a full three or four hours before midnight. Rising was at daybreak or before. Grandfather's life may seem the height of monotony to present-day youngsters but in his clock-like regularity doubtless lay the secret of his longevity and amazingly good health. The long working day saw a multitude of necessary tasks accomplished; satisfaction in creation inducted a mental tranquility and simple happiness possessed by few of the "night hawk" species.

Babies born before the turn of the century were assured of sufficient rest during the first 10 years of life. Childhood sleep was never troubled by a blaring radio in the parlor. Tired little bodies were not carried like so many meal sacks from motion picture palaces at the close of the extra-special-double feature.

The nervous and physical breakdowns so common now between 40 and 60 years of age, then rarely occurred. A man might find himself slowing up a trifle in the spring plowing or at lifting a felled tree but there was little additional evidence of advancing age.

The genus "homo" has suffered no measurable evolutionary change in so short a period as half a century. Man isn't growing softer, except insofar as he permits an enervating environment or habit of life to take its toll.

Carthaginian Peace.
A Carthaginian peace is a treaty of peace so severe that it means the virtual destruction of the defeated contestant. The term is derived from the ancient terms imposed upon Carthage by Rome after the Second Punic war.

Three sons of war heroes are pictured at the USO's children's review of the world at the war exhibit in Rockefeller Center, New York. Left to right at the gun mechanism are Dale O'Donnel, Pat O'Donnel and Pat Devereaux. The O'Donnel boys are sons of Lieut. Col. Emmet O'Donnel, hero of the aerial defense of Luzon. Young Devereaux's dad is Maj. J. P. Devereaux, captured by the Japs on Wake Island.

Wasted money is wasted lives. Don't waste precious lives. Every dollar you can spare should be used to buy War Bonds. Buy your ten percent every pay day.

Safe Arrival of Canadians

A Canadian tank division, which includes many U. S. volunteers, arrives at a camp "somewhere in England," after a trip through the Atlantic danger zone. They were part of the largest contingent of Canadian troops to reach England. Thousands of men made the safe journey across, said the British censor.

The Marines Have Landed

This photograph was made at Jacksonville, N. C., during marine maneuvers—first time—between army-navy and marines on beach landing practice. Transports unloaded armored cars and troops carrying equipment, etc. Photo shows marines going over the side of transport landing boats.

Commander in Chief Visits Atlantic

At Sea... Adm. Harold Stark (arrow) commander in chief of the European fleet, inspects the guard of honor on one of the ships of the Atlantic fleet.

Super-Bombs Dropped on German

Heavy bombs, some of them weighing up to 2,000 pounds, are being loaded aboard a British bomber before a raid over German territory. The British censor-approved caption describes them as some of Britain's new "beautiful" bombs, whose blasting power, five times that of any previous bombs, are blowing German factories to bits.

Supplies to Russia

THREE MILLION PAIRS OF BOOTS and 500,000 blankets are among the items made in Britain and sent to Russia. Eighty per cent of Britain's war production goes to battlefields abroad. Much of it goes to Russia—including planes, tanks, anti-aircraft guns, ammunition, and radio equipment—in large convoys which have battled their way through by Arctic routes despite storms, ice, U-boats and enemy bombers. Fifty British-made tanks are being sent each week, and 111 airplanes for every hundred that is promised to Russia.

In addition, British railways have sent 142 locomotives and 1,000 freight cars to carry goods. Russia over the railway across Persia. In Persia, a British-sponsored non-profit organization has built special assembly plants which, by last January, were assembling trucks at the rate of 200 per month. This picture shows one convoy of these trucks winding its way up a Persian river valley on its 8-day journey northward to Russia, loaded with Allied supplies.

Governor Presents Victory Garden Emblem

Michigan Victory gardeners are registering their gardens in increasing numbers since Gov. Murray D. VanWagoner presented the first Victory Garden emblem in the state to Mrs. Mary Livingston, 922 N. Larch St., Lansing on July 21. Presentation was made in Mrs. Livingston's yard.

but not all gardens planted in this phase of the war effort have been registered.

Four neighborhood boys have been spending their vacation days working under Mrs. Livingston's supervision in her backyard garden plot. They have made a model garden and the crops of beans, peas, carrots, radishes and corn have been turned over to them for their own use. In making the presentation Gov. VanWagoner praised the boys for their patriotic effort.

Victory Garden displays are planned for a number of county and community fairs in the State in August and early September.

newspapermen and photographers witnessing the ceremony.

The Michigan plan of awarding certificates of patriotic cooperation to gardeners has been adopted in other states.

George Tomlinson, director of Victory Gardens for the Michigan Council of Defense, points out that Victory Gardeners may receive their certificates of award only by registering their gardens with their local Victory Garden chairman, their local Defense Council or the Michigan Council of Defense at Lansing. According to Tomlinson's records, the awarding of the first emblem has spurred registration.

director of Victory Gardens for the Michigan Council of Defense. The tour of the fairs opened at the Washtenaw County Fair at Ann Arbor, August 4 to 7. In the period of August 11 to August 15, the Victory Garden display will be seen at Hastings, Imlay City and Mason.

Specimens of the Victory Garden crops will be exhibited at some of the fairs, and at all of them, charts indicating the results in produce in proportion to the plantings will be shown. Arrangements have been made to register Victory Gardeners at the fairs and emblems will be awarded to those who have participated in this phase of the war effort.

Dear Mr. Schumann:

I thought I would write a few lines to the home town newspaper. I am pretty busy nowadays and I don't have time to write to all of you so this will kill two birds with one stone. First I wish to thank you for sending me the Crawford Avalanche. I sure enjoy it very much. It seems good to know what is happening at home as well as where we are. I read all the letters from camp in your paper, and I see that there is a fellow from Grayling on this Island with me. His name is Bert Confer. I am going to try and look him up the next day I have off. It will seem good to have a talk with someone from my home town.

Dear Dad, Sister and Brother:

I wish to say this: I don't have time to write to all of you so this letter gives you the answer as to why Pvt. Cecil Vickery doesn't write. Although I would like to say hello to all of you, also Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moon and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Galloway and all the rest I happen to leave out. I have been thinking about you people at home quite a lot lately. Wish I were in Grayling for a little while for a change.

Well, this is a very pretty place over here. I have seen three hula hula shows since I have been here and they are pretty good. I have eaten a lot of coconuts and pineapple and believe me, they are very good. I have only been in town once since I have been here, but what I have seen of it, it is pretty nice. The people over here are nice to the American soldiers and friendly, too. I kind of like it over here although the Hawaiian music gets tiresome after a while. If you fellows back home need a girl friend, there are plenty of hula-hula girls here; have a special one for my friend Harry Canfield. Ha, ha.

Say, Clarence Galloway, I have lost your address while coming across so that is why I haven't written to you. I wish you all the luck and hoping for plenty of it myself.

I think I will have to bring this letter to a close, so keep 'em flying at home and we will keep 'em falling here.

ALOHA to all of you.
Thanks to the U.S.O. for the dollar I received yesterday from Grayling, Mich.

Of Interest To Duck Hunters

The best duck flights in more than a decade, predicted by the federal fish and wildlife service, will be matched this fall by federal regulations allowing 70 days of duck shooting—10 more than last year, and every one a full day, from sunrise to sunset.

(Formal state conservation commission action on Michigan waterfowl hunting regulations is scheduled for August 17, but no deviation from federal recommendations is expected, except that rail and gallinule shooting, as in previous years, may be made to start with the duck season, no earlier.)

Continuing increases in the duck supply, now estimated at three times the duck population of seven years ago, explain such liberalization of the federal rules as abandonment of the 4 p. m. closing time and the 70 day season which, in the zone including Michigan, will run from September 26 through December 4.

One wood duck will be permitted in the aggregate bag of 10, as for the first time since the adoption of the migratory bird treaty act, the open season applies to all ducks. Not more than three redheads or buffleheads, singly or in the aggregate, may be taken in any one day, the same as last year. The three-shell limit on repeating shotguns also remains in force.

A decline in goose populations has cut the bag limit on the big birds from three a day to two, except for the abundant blue geese, of which the hunter may take six in a day. With the status of woodcock "somewhat improved in general, but spotty," Michigan can have seasons the same as in 1941—October 1-15 in the upper peninsula and October 15-29 in lower Michigan.

Extension of the waterfowl storage limit from 20 to 30 days will make possible the serving of wildfowl over the Christmas-New Year's holiday season.

In the attics and cellars of homes, in garages, tool sheds, and on farms, is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Old radiators, lengths of pipe, refrigerators, garbage pails, broken garden tools...

It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel, with most impurities removed—and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

Even in peacetime our Nation relied on scrap to provide about 50% of the raw material for steel. Now production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined.

But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns, and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead, and tin.

America needs your active assistance in rounding up these materials. The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?

First—collect all your waste material and pile it up.

Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

Scrap Harvest To Comb Farms For Salvage

The Michigan Scrap Harvest, an intensified program designed to salvage badly needed scrap material from farms and rural communities, was launched at a meeting in the Senate Chamber at Lansing on August 3.

Principal speakers opening the statewide campaign were Gov. Murray D. VanWagoner, chairman of the Michigan Council of Defense, and Herbert L. Guterson, chief of the general salvage section, Industrial Conservation Bureau of the War Production Board.

The Salvage Committee of the Michigan Council of Defense, headed by Kenneth M. Burns, is cooperating with local salvage committees in the effort to salvage every pound of scrap metal and other essential war material from the rural districts of the state.

Salvage collection depots have been established and local committees are arranging for transportation of the salvage to designated receiving stations. The Farm Equipment Institute and National Farm Equipment Association are extending assistance. In most rural sections farm implement dealers will cooperate in handling the scrap.

Mr. Guterson is a veteran administrator with experience in two wars. In World War I he was in charge of purchases of foods and materials for the Allies, under Herbert Hoover, and after the Armistice he was a member of Hoover's relief administration staff in Paris. In the present war he is heading the program for salvage of materials for conversion into weapons and war materials.

Revised Volunteer Lists. The Agriculture Committee of the Michigan Council of Defense has asked for a check of the lists of Civilian Volunteers who have offered their services for war work. The purpose of the check, according to C. V. Ballard, chairman of the committee, is to establish a workable roster of volunteers, who will be available to meet the serious farm labor shortage in 1943. While some serious shortage of labor existed on the farms in certain sections of the state this year, Mr. Ballard believes that the immediate emergency is being fairly well met. With the call for more men in the military services, and the increasing demand in industrial labor, however, Michigan farmers fear a serious situation on the farms in 1943.

Distribute Creeds

The Michigan Council of Defense has prepared for distribution 100,000 copies of the Civilian Defense creed, "I Am an Air Raid Warden." The creed was written by Frank W. Atherton, Chief Air Raid Warden of the District No. 1 of the Citizens' Defense Corps, composed of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Joins Defense Staff

Dr. Clarence W. Muehlberger, well known toxicologist, director of the crime laboratory of the Michigan Department of Health and the State Police, has joined the staff of Capt. Donald S. Leonard, Commander of the Civilian Defense Corps as consultant. Dr. Muehlberger will work with local protection units towards education of the public in meeting emergencies of a gas attack, including decontamination of food, clothing and water and care of gas casualties.

Letters from Camp

Victoria, Texas.
July 27, 1942

Dear Mr. Schumann:

Just a few lines to let you know I sure appreciate your sending me the Avalanche every week.

I just got back from my furlough; I only got as far as Detroit. Wanted to get to Grayling but as it took two and a half days to get home and the same to get back that only left me five days. I am going to try and get another furlough for January so I can be in Grayling for the winter sports.

I like the army life and think it is the best place for anybody.

Say hello to my Dad and I hope he can come down here soon. I also wish to say hello to my mother who lives in Detroit. I am sweating out a transfer to gunnery school in Nevada. I plan on going before September. Am getting a three-day pass and going to Houston, Texas. It has a population of 100,000.

Will you do me a favor; send me a list of all the Grayling boys in the army who are stationed in Texas. This is really a pretty state.

Time for work so will close.
Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Verner A. Rasmussen 515th School Sq.
Foster Field.

Hawaii
July 20, 1942

Dear Dad and Ruth:

I thought I would write you a few lines because I got the letter you wrote July 1st and today is Sunday so I am lucky in getting a little time off. Well everything around here is just about the same. I am getting along as well as can be expected.

I told you some time ago that I was going to send you a few little things from Hawaii. Well, as I understand it, they won't get home very quick so I am just waiting to find out. We did have some pictures taken and as soon as I get them I'll try and send you some.

I suppose you all know by now that we have Hawaiian money. It is nearly the same as ours except it stays here in the Islands.

Oh, yes, I must tell you before I forget: we are going to have turkey and apple pie for supper. Not bad, eh? You don't have to worry about me not getting enough to eat because we get plenty. I would like very much to get the Grayling paper once in a while. I haven't seen one in ages.

We are in wooden barracks now and we have our own radio so that makes things much better. But I would still like to read the home paper.

Got a nice long letter from Lillie Fitch so I guess I'm in for some writing. I have a little present for Eveline. I think I can send it in with her letter when I write.

Did you get the thirty dollar money order I sent? I don't think the next one will be that much but I hope it will be. Well folks I think I've told you all
